IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Fidelity National Information Services Executive to Speak at TAWPI 2008 Forums & Expo
Lynn Roche to Provide Perspectives on Emerging Outsourcing Trends

Boston, June 27, 2008 – Lynn Roche, senior vice president at Fidelity National Information Services, Inc. (FIS), will present the “Power session” in the Payments Automation Forum at The Association for Work Process Improvement’s (TAWPI) 2008 Forums & Expo, scheduled for August 24-27, at Disney’s Contemporary Resort in Orlando, Fla.

Roche leads strategic planning initiatives and oversees operations, implementations, development and technical support for more than 50 networked, payment service centers. FIS’ capture centers and software process more than 3.5 billion transactions annually. All of these capture centers are imaged enabled and perform check, remittance, consumer and merchant processing for more than 1,900 customers. Roche has been managing core and image processing for 18 years at FIS. She is a well-known expert in the field.

“Lynn will take a high-level look at emerging outsourcing trends and provide insights into her vision of the future: Outsourcing 2.0,” said TAWPI President Frank Moran. “She’ll discuss a new breed of outsourcing provider that is emerging, one that is more tightly integrated with the customers it serves, providing broader and deeper products, new business models and more proactive service. We are fortunate to have insight from an industry authority such as Lynn.” Ms. Roche’s address will take place on August 26.
